4085 Receive New Ration Books Here

New Point System Becomes Effective With Little Confusion

Sierra Madreans took to point rationing like a duck to water, according to local storekeepers. Little confusion was reported when the new order became effective Monday, though many shoppers expressed keen disappointment over the small purchasing power of the ration coupons and many made vows to guarantee something like their normal food supplies by the immediate planting of Victory Gardens.

Store managers reported that most of their customers had familiarized themselves with the point values of their coupons and went about their shopping without delay. One point about which some were not entirely clear was that 48 ration points are allowed each individual instead of each family. Families in which women are employed in defense industries were apparently hardest hit through their inability to secure canned foods that can be quickly prepared for a meal when they return from work.

No. 2 War Ration books were issued to 4085 Sierra Madreans during the six-day registration period. The registration was admirably handled by an exceptionally competent staff that was highly praised by School Superintendent Gerald Smith and commended by the townspeople.

Those who through absence from the city, illness, or for other reasons were unable to secure the new ration books by Saturday night, must worry along without any until March 15 when there will be a special registration.

It was semi-officially announced in Washington yesterday that April 1 had definitely been fixed for the rationing of meat and cheese, the combined allowance of which would be one and three-fourths pounds per person a week. At the same time it is expected that butter, oleomargarine and cooking oils and fats will go on the point basis, to be had along with meat and cheese with the red stamps in the No. 2 ration books.

The ration value of dried peas, beans and lentils has been fixed at eight points per pound.

The District Ration Board in Monrovia wishes to thank the Sierra Madreans who worked so faithfully at the Monrovia Board making out the second issue of supplemental mileage books.

These volunteer workers who used their own allotment of gasoline to go to and from the board headquarters were Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Grammel, Capt. and Mrs. E. G. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Clement May, Mrs. A. H. Embree, Mrs. Joy Embree and Capt. and Mrs. Shelby Cowart.

Season's Rainfall To Top 30 Inches

With the season's rainfall already practically three times that at this time last year, another rainstorm dropped over the mountains Tuesday night with the prospect that before it ended considerably more than 30 inches would be recorded for the season. Temperatures, nearly normal, for the week have been:

	Max.	Min.
Feb. 25	58	42
Feb. 26	57	40
Feb. 27	66	41
Feb. 28	66	41
Mar. 1	58	46
Mar. 2	56	42
Mar. 3	68	58

Rainfall to March 2, 29.03 inches; same date for 1942, 10.03 inches.

Lives Of Hospitalized Soldiers Here To Be Brightened By Junior Women

The Junior Woman's Club philanthropic project for this year will be the providing and serving of light refreshments to convalescent patients at the Eilers Estate Hospital every Tuesday and Friday.

Members of the club have volunteered to transport refreshments to the hospital. The project is being carried out with the cooperation of Lieut. S. R. Bazzelle, officer in charge of the hospital.

Club members are also collecting late magazines, recent novels and non-fictional reading for the soldiers. Townspeople wishing to contribute this type of reading matter may leave it at the Sierra Madre News office or call Mrs. Althea Butler at 6706.

The club is providing also motion pictures including cartoons, news and sport shorts.

Mrs. Agnes Hutcheson is chairman of this project. Mrs. Irene McClelland refreshment chairman and Mrs. Althea Butler, telephone chairman.

Relax Lenten Rules Account Of Food, Work Conditions

Partial dispensation from the usual fast and abstinence regulations during Lent which begins next Wednesday has been granted to the Catholics of the archdiocese, Archbishop John J. Cantwell announced this week. Only three days during Lent, Ash Wednesday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday until noon are strict days of fast and abstinence, because of the food rationing problems. Permission to celebrate a noon day mass for the convenience of late workers has also been granted.

Rev. Leo Schiebel, pastor of St. Rita's Shrine, announced special services will be held on Ash Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. and the Novena Service in honor of St. Rita on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. John Neal, rector of the Church of the Ascension, announced Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m., and Choral Eucharist at 10 a.m. on Sundays, and Holy Communion at 10 a.m. on Thursdays during Lent.

Preparation For Jap Air Raids Urged

Stirred by a letter from Gen. John L. DeWitt of the Army's Western Defense Command, warning citizens and civilian defense officials of the coastal area to be prepared for Japanese air raids, and an announcement made in Washington by Director James M. Landis of OGD that the people had become so lethargic and that the dangers of Jap raids on the coast were so great that it may be necessary to enact legislation to require citizens to enroll for civilian defense activities, officers of the local defense council considered plans yesterday for recruiting the greatly undermanned defense units here to something like full strength.

Not a single unit of the Sierra Madre Civilian Defense Corps is anything like complete, it was pointed out. Most of them are almost scandalously undermanned, notwithstanding a recent campaign to enlarge the units that brought in a substantial number of volunteers. Some of the required units have never been recruited. What there is of the local organization was highly commended by Army officers who supervised a recent air raid test drill. Officials of the organization believe that the warnings of Gen. DeWitt and Director Landis and the frequency of recent alerts in this area should bring residents here to a realization of the danger facing them and cause them to enroll for their own and the community protection.

Gen. DeWitt's letter, relayed by Governor Earl Warren through the State Council of Defense, was received by the local defense council yesterday. It follows, in part:

"Enemy inaction along the Pacific Coast during the past several months may well give rise to a relaxation of public interest in Civilian Defense measures. A shrewd enemy takes advantage of the public state of lethargy, and may even attempt to cause a civilian population to be lulled into a sense of security, thereby creating a favorable opportunity for attack. The mere fact that enemy raids have not taken place along this coast should be a challenge to Civilian Defense to renew its vigilance."

"It is requested that you take the necessary action to bring to the attention of the public generally the need for constant vigilance and attention to Civilian Defense training and preparedness. This letter is intended to place emphasis on the importance of continued effort on the part of everyone connected with civilian Defense."

If a member of your family or a friend is with the colors and has been promoted, transferred or has had some interesting experience, the NEWS will be glad to tell his friends here at home about it, or to print a part of his letters. These paragraphs will probably cause hometown associates to write him and men in the armed services crave letters from home above all things.)

Local Soldier In Southwest Pacific Is First Donor To Red Cross War Fund

Blood Of 200 Citizens Is Asked Here

Life Giving Plasma Is Needed For Wounded Men At Battle Fronts

When the Blood Plasma unit rolls into Sierra Madre on Tuesday, March 30, residents here are expected to cooperate 100 percent in blood donations to meet the expected needs of the Red Cross which recently issued a statement from National headquarters that an estimated one million casualties are anticipated within the year.

Sierra Madre's quota of required donors has been raised to 200, double that of the unit's last visit, and all citizens who are within the required age and weight limit are asked to get in touch with the Red Cross office for appointments.

The age limit has been lowered, with all minors requested to furnish the written consent of their parents. The policy regarding the weight of donors has also been changed. Instead of the minimum weight of 120 pounds, donors weighing from 110 pounds upward are now accepted.

According to Margaret Eliason, instigator of our local center, who is now employed at a government hospital in Palm Springs, as many as eight or ten tents of plasma have been used in the healing of serious cases, and an even greater need for plasma is making itself manifest as casualties multiply. With such illustrations brought even closer home to the civilians, the local Red Cross chapter feels that no effort on the part of any individual is too great to supply the additional plasma so necessary in saving the lives of America's fighting men.

City's Annual Fete To Go On As Usual

Woman's Club Will Sponsor Wistaria Festival; To Open This Month

Sierra Madre will have its annual Wistaria Fete this year after all. Due to gasoline and tire rationing it seemed until this week that the event would be one of the many war casualties, but the Woman's Club was unwilling that the long series of annual events that brought Sierra Madre to the attention of the world should be broken and arranged with Bruce McGill, owner of the gardens, to sponsor this year's festival.

Some of the things that lent color to the fetes of former years may be lacking but there is every indication now that the great old vine will outdo itself in performing its part. The huge trellised spread is covered with rapidly expanding buds that a week or two of bright, warm weather will cause to pop open. Until this popping process starts it will be impossible to fix a time for the opening of the fete, as always. But it is certain that it will get under way this month.

There will be few if any booths or concessions at this year's fete, but directors of the Woman's Club have arranged that light lunches and tea will be served under the vine and in the pergola. A nominal admission will be charged at the gates and the free parking lot will be at the disposal of visitors. Mrs. Percy Kortkamp has been appointed chairman in general charge of the fete. Various committees will be announced later.

Sierra Madre Nurse Is Commissioned A 2nd Lieutenant

Frances M. Ingold, 115 N. Canon ave., has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps and assigned to active duty at Camp Haan, California, according to an announcement from the headquarters of Major General Kenyon A. Joyce, Commanding General of the Ninth Service Command, at Fort Douglas, Utah.

Captains Named To Lead House To House Campaign To Start Next Monday

By Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard

The first local contribution for the Red Cross campaign came from the Southwest Pacific. Capt. David Allen, located on one of the islands, sent an eloquent token to his home city. There was no letter accompanying the check, but we can well imagine that the Red Cross had been a friend indeed in the isolation, danger and monotony of daily routine. The boys do not forget. While the local house to house visitation begins March 8th, several friends have been moved to contribute early with a total to March 2nd, of $1096. Among these was our first $250 and several of $100.

The city has been divided into nine districts with captains as follows: Mrs. R. C. Lyon, Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, Mrs. Roy Pickett, Mrs. F. A. Spencer, Mrs. C. L. Young, Mrs. Fred Griebel, Mrs. E. G. Everett, Mrs. Philip Senour, Dr. J. Andrew Hall. The business district will be visited by members of the Kiwanis Club with Carl Hansen as chairman. These teams begin their rounds next Monday, and will continue through March.

Some friends do not feel able to give all they would like in one payment so they are taking advantage of the pledge card system whereby they can contribute by the month or quarter as they may desire. Meantime all are remembering the ratio for computing our quota of $7500, viz., two and one half times last year's contribution. We are also confident as to our own responsibilities when we know $3,500 is to be retained in our local treasury.

It is planned that each person in Sierra Madre shall have the opportunity to contribute to the Red Cross. Whatever may be our attitude to the war, we all agree that the Red Cross is performing a constructive, necessary and humanitarian service. We have the reputation of being a generous city. This is a great credit to us. It also testifies to the universal participation by young and old in our united efforts. The aged mother who gives her dollar for the many ministrations of Red Cross to her son, the schoolboy who brings his earnings to help provide a sweater and movies for his uncle, as well as the retired philanthropist with his larger check have all contributed to give our city its happy distinction.

Call 19 Here For March Draft Quota

Some Of 18-Year Olds May Be Deferred Before Induction Next Thursday

Nineteen Sierra Madreans have received notice that they are included in the March draft quota of the Sierra Madre-Arcadia-Monrovia draft district and ordered to report for induction next Tuesday, March 9.

Quota for the district is one of the largest assigned and includes several 18-year old boys enrolled in the most recent registration. A number of them are scheduled to graduate from high school and junior college in June and will probably be given deferment until that time when they report at draft headquarters.

Miss Doris Evelyn Gage, daughter of Mrs. Arthur H. Gage of East California st., Pasadena, was married to James Alexander McAndrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wilson officiated and Mrs. Clem A. Towner played the wedding music.

The bride wore a Victorian-styled satin gown made with a long, sweeping train. A pearl Juliet cap held her finger-tip length veil in place and she carried a bouquet of gardenias. Miss Mildred L. Gage, sister of the bride, wearing a pale pink frock, was maid of honor, and Miss Agnes McAndrew, sister of the bridegroom, gowned in pale blue, was bridesmaid.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Stanley Wood of Sierra Madre. Edward F. DeLong of Sierra Madre and Frank Swift of Riverside were ushers. Mr. Swift is a fraternity brother of Mr. McAndrew.

A buffet supper was served to 30 guests in the late evening. Decorations were carried out in a patriotic nautical theme. The table was covered with a red, white and blue table cloth with nautical designs. White calla lilies formed the centerpiece and tall blue tapers were placed at each end of the table. Small red, white and blue napkins revealed the names of the engaged couple, when unfolded. Miss Mary Sheriff assisted Miss Mootte at the table service.

Mr. List is now at the Naval Training Station in Logan, Utah where he is undergoing preliminary training for a Navy radio-man. No date has been set for the wedding.

More Than 300 Stop Signs Eliminated

Setting the pace in the nationwide campaign to put more "go" and less "stop" in America's traffic signals and other control devices, southland cities have to date ordered the removal of close to 300 boulevard stop signs in a move designed to coincide traffic flow to wartime needs.

In many instances, the stop sign warnings have not been removed altogether, but masks reading, "Slow, Intersection," have been set in their place. The striped posts, denoting "stop" markers, in these cases, have been painted in the caution color—orange.

Mrs. Margaret Eliason, former member of the NEWS staff, now employed at the Army hospital at Palm Springs, spent several days visiting friends and relatives here this week. It was her first furlough since entering the government service several months ago.

Herbert Dowding, popular P.E. trainman who was confined to his Ramona ave., home with an attack of bronchitis, is back on the rails, but assigned now to a day instead of the late evening trains between Sierra Madre and San Marino junction.

Mrs. W. H. Pollgreen of 643 Woodland dr., is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Niehoff of San Marcos, this week.

Mrs. Emily Moyer of 201½ West Grand View ave., who has been ill with influenza for two weeks, was about seeing friends on Friday.

Mrs. Lorin Neff of Marlborough Terrace was a housewife of Mrs. Jane Baker of Beverly Hills during the weekend.

Alice James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig James of 38 East Grand View ave., recently completed a post graduate course in social service work at Berkeley and is now employed in San Francisco.

Recently arriving in Sierra Madre from Lodi, Calif., was Mrs. Elizabeth Dentley, who is here on an extended visit.

Dr. George Purnell who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Remington Stone of 321 East Grand View ave., for the past ten days, returned Monday to his home in Guadalajara, Mex.

Mrs. George Tyler (Helen Jackson) and son Trent, of Long Beach, are visiting her mother.

Mrs. E. L. Jackson of 55 North Auburn ave. Miss Jennie Heil of Los Angeles was a recent guest of Mrs. N. B. Clark of 187 North Mt. Trail ave.

Mrs. Wynn Van Schaie of L. Jolla is spending the weekend with Mrs. H. B. Gill of 232 Mariposa ave. Mrs. Van Schaie will talk on religious education at the Parish House of the Church of Ascension at 3 p.m. on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Seaman were guests of Mrs. J. L. Maritz of Hollywood on Sunday.

Varied activities have been on the social calendar recently for Mrs. Flora May Farman of 32 East Highland ave. Her brother, H. S. Stanbery of Fort Dodge, Iowa, has been visiting here for several weeks. Mrs. Grace Bogart of Los Angeles was a weekend houseguest of Mrs. Farman. Mrs. Farman, with Mr. and Mrs. Steinberger, Mr. Bogart and Mr. Stanbery visited Corona Del Mar Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dammeyer and son Teddy of 84 Esperanza ave. spent Sunday at Lake Arrowhead. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Plant of Santa Anita Oaks were dinner guests of friends in Los Angeles Tuesday night.

Don't Worry

Don't be alarmed because your white registration slip and automobile license tag are late in arriving. It may be weeks before you get them, but they'll be along eventually. Over a million license applications piled up in the motor vehicle department at Sacramento in the five days preceding February 4 and nothing like half of them have been opened yet. You'll be fortunate if your white slip comes back before April 15. And there has been a delay in the manufacture of the metal tags, too, that is holding up return of the slips.

THE REAL TRAGEDY

High as our taxes may be—and the evidence accumulates that they will be so high as to play havoc with our American standard of living—the real tragedy of this war is the high cost we must pay in human lives before it is done. Beside that fearful toll, money costs, wrecked businesses and all the other dislocations which are bound to come to our normal way of life are insignificant. We can't compute a mother's sorrow when her son is lost in battle, or a wife's heartbreaking when her husband is killed fighting for his country. Those are costs which can't be figured in terms of taxes or war debt.

President Roosevelt, in announcing that 1934 war plans contemplate the invasion of Europe, prepared the people to what is to come when he said that it will be "one of the greatest military operations ever planned in history—a military campaign which, no matter how successfully and brilliantly executed, will involve casualties such as this Nation has never before endured."

When contemplated what that means in human tragedy, we should all highly resolve, here on the home front, to do everything within our power, willingly and ungrudgingly, and regardless of any sacrifice it may entail, to back up our men in the armed forces and to put a period to this war as speedily as possible. And we should also highly resolve that never again will we sit idly by while gangster leaders come to power and deliberately fan the fires of a world holocaust. The bitter tragedy of this war is that a few years ago, when Hitler and Mussolini were mere puppets, strutting and pounding their chests, they could have been checkmated. And Japan, too, could have been checked before her plans were laid. The tragedy is that it need not have happened—and the least we can do, when we have paid our debt in blood, is to make certain, no matter what the cost, that it doesn't happen all over again a few decades hence.

HIDING HOARDING

It is a thought that all of the digging in one's back yard has not been for the purpose of Victory Gardening. It could be that some of those extra tin cans have been buried there... Then, too, your garbage man and tin can collector could be a federal investigator (who knows) and if there are too many empty cans there these days, the householder will be looked upon with suspicion... One way to get rid of the surplus and undeclared tin cans will be to drive out some dark night and see that you are not followed, and toss the cans out of the car window... Any reference to actual conditions (present and future) is purely incidental—C. O. Shoop in Puente Journal.

U.S. WAR BONDS

Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

NOW, as to Prophecy, and War and Peace. But first—not to change the subject—this Spring we now feel about us here in Sierra Madre: young quail couples running through every grassy glade in search of suitable nesting-places; mocking birds resuming their song; trees in the bud; even the goldfish in the pond twisting like trout in a frantic ecstasy of new life; our mountains again green, and awake with bright water—where no water was before. All these things. And we simply can't believe that the Creator ever did stop in this tale of Creation—from blades of grass to the lofty workings of the Holy Ghost. Which does bring us back to where we started out, thinking of one of our own major American prophets, William James, and what he wrote of War and Peace.

REMEMBERING always what a friend once told us about the first time she ever saw this teacher, philosopher, prophet, not knowing then who he was. It was when she was still an undergraduate at Berkeley and she was crossing from San Francisco to Oakland; when there, on the crowded ferry, she saw this face as one transfigured; of a man who stood on the after-deck looking out over the wide white wake of the ship and the reeling gulls. More than forty years ago, that was, but the memory of it is with her strong as ever—and also the feeling—that she'd then seen something Biblical, something holy. That year, it seems, William James had come out to California from the East as a candidate for the presidency of Berkeley. The place went to a lesser man. It couldn't, we believe, have gone to a greater.

A BELIEF we've always cherished. But one recently strengthened by our reading of his famous essay on "The Moral Equivalent of War." Worth the reading-time of anyone. You'll find it in our Public Library, in his book called "Memories and Studies." Not a pacifist tract—not at all; although the writer of it himself was pacifist—in this, as ever, one with Job, Isaiah, the Psalmist, or any other of the myriad brotherhood of Holy Writ—white, yellow or brown. For example, see how, early in the text, he speaks of how reluctant we Americans would be to erase, if this were possible, from our history—or the lives of our ancestors—the memories and legends of our War for the Union. "A sacred spiritual possession," he calls these, "worth more than all the blood poured out."

A GAIN, he quotes a passage from H. G. Wells—incidentally, a paragraph that might well have been clipped from a current magazine instead of from an article printed long before the First World War; this: "When the contemporary man steps from the street—of clamorous insincere advertisement, push, adulteration, underselling and intermittent employment—into the barrack-yard, he steps onto a higher social plane, into an atmosphere of service and co-operation and of infinitely more honorable emulations. Here at least men are not flung out of employment to degenerate... they are fed and drilled and trained for better services. Here at least a man is supposed to win promotion by self-forgetfulness and not by self-seeking."

WHAT, then, would be this "moral equivalent of war" which William James proclaimed and toward which now war itself may be leading us? The war-party has been right, our Prophet says, in its affirmation of the value to the race of those martial virtues gained through war. Men are now proud of belonging to a conquering nation—without murmur they lay down their wealth and their lives to keep it so. But why shouldn't they, some day, feel that it's worth a blood-tax to achieve also the social ideal? Why shouldn't there be, instead of a military conscription a conscription of our youth to form an army enlisted against injustice? Let all of our youth, regardless of birth, take their chance in mines, in wintry fishing-fleets, in road-building, tunnel-making, all forms of hard and disagreeable labor, thus "to get the childishness knocked out of them, and to come back into society with healthier sympathies and soberer ideas."

READING which, we speculate, looking betimes at the work of Creation the Eternal still carries on even here outside our window; speculate not so much perhaps on what William James was inspired to write but on what our brave young men at the front, and everywhere, are inspired to think—their meditations, dreams, and visions. For

YESTERDAY:
JARS OF GOOD THINGS "PUT UP" BY MOTHER ON WELL-FILLED SHELVES... BARRELS OF APPLES AND BINS OF POTATOES IN THE CELLAR... ROWS OF SMOKED HAM, BACON AND SAUSAGES HANGING FROM THE RAFTERS... A GREAT PILE OF CORDWOOD IN THE SHED... SAVINGS "PUT BY" FROM THE HARVEST—ASSURANCE OF WINTER COMFORT, OF FREEDOM FROM WORRY AND WANT.

TODAY:
AMERICANS HAVE A GREATER REASON THAN EVER FOR "PUTTING UP" THEIR FOODS... AND "PUTTING BY" THEIR FUNDS—IN WAR BONDS, LIFE INSURANCE, SAVINGS ACCOUNTS—
"PUTTING UP" AND "PUTTING BY" BUILDS SECURITY FOR THE HOME AND FOR THE NATION.

The Army hasn't gone panty-waist, but "lace curtains" are being made to camouflage its equipment. Production of "shrimp net" camouflage by the million square yards, based on a design developed by certain manufacturers and Army and Navy experts began this week. Ten lace curtain factories throughout the country are preparing for production. Off the looms will come giant "snoods" for rolling guns, tanks and planes. The "snoods," of heavy fishnet-like fabric, dyed a jungle green, will become "self-camouflage" that can be tossed over a tank or a Jeep as soon as it rolls to a halt.

An automobile, a trailer, a camp ground, or even a sleeping bag may soon acquire a legal status of a home in California, if occupied by war workers or transient farm hands, under the terms of a bill introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Crowley of Fairfield. The Crowley act is designed to constitute all such "emergency housing" as a permanent residence for voting purposes. Shades of the Dust Bowl, but what a political problem that presents.

These things, say Washington, D.C., you can count on—so far as income taxes are concerned: We will pay more than ever before. We must file by March 15, showing what 1942 income was. We'll doubtless make our first quarterly payment—and maybe the second one—one the basis of present rates before Congress agrees on further changes. The Ruml plan to "forgive" 1942 taxes and start at the-source collections from 1943 incomes, didn't meet with unqualified approval. Big taxpayers would have to be "forgiven" along with the little taxpayers. The United States Treasury isn't for presenting such windfalls gratis. Pros and cons are being studied, but in the meantime, those who budgeted their incomes for the payment of taxes are the ones who will either least when March 15 rolls around. If you haven't a taxtime savings account, you can't do better than to begin one now! Right budgeting and saving now is practical patriotism because we'll be paying, whatever the final pro or con turns out to be. And for a little push in the right direction comes the suggestion—Congress may up the

What They Say --

Mrs. Hal Davis, Oakland, who narrowly escaped death when she ran back into her burning home to save several pairs of dancing slippers—"I'm all right now, but I couldn't replace these under shoe rationing."

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

The Navy gets out a little broadside to its own men entitled, "How to Write a Letter and not an Advertisement for a Torpedo." It is a set of instructions that every mother and father of a service man ought to have at hand when the long awaited note from Sonny arrives—and doesn't say a thing.

The restrictions which surround and sometimes almost suffocate Sonny's correspondence are placed there for his own protection. Concerning the things his family wants most to know about—where he is, how close to the battle area, whether his force is big or small, what's the weather, has he seen any action and how did he come through it—on those things, his silence means his safety and that of other mother's sons.

For the boys detailed to far battle stations, the Navy writes it out in language they understand: "1—Write the name of your ship and its correct address (care of the Fleet Postmaster, N.Y. or S.F.) but don't give the location of your ship."

"2—Don't write about ports recently visited or when or where you expect to go. Don't write about convoys, ship movements or anything else you wouldn't want the enemy to know."

"3—Most important, use your common sense. It is not smart to avoid censorship when your life may depend on it. The censor does not pry, he protects. Don't attract a tin fish by being a sucker."

Regularly a list of prohibited subjects is posted which the boys are asked to study. For the benefit of mothers, dads, sisters and wives inclined to worry that the service is making their men taciturn and uncommunicative, here are a few of the subjects under Navy taboo:

"The location, movement or identity of any merchant ship, aircraft, naval vessel or naval or military force."

"Defensive or offensive forces, weapons, installations or plans of the U.S. or her allies."

"The effect of enemy operations, casualties either to personnel or material suffered by the U.S. or her allies."

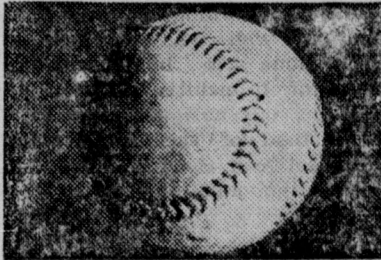

These instructions to service men should be understood and respected equally by civilians, who might well add one or two admonitions of their own to remember when they write the boys:

Do write good news, happy, morale building news. DON'T urge a confidence not freely given. And don't write bad news or worrisome items to the fellows who have their hands full trying to straighten out for us the biggest headache the world has ever known.

Augusta

Augusta Travers—you know, the one who runs the little hat shop down on Main Street—she's always been dead set against gambling in any form. Never will forget when I was a kid and she found little Hammy, her youngest nephew, playing marbles for keeps out back of the shop. Took it on herself to give him a whaling and point out the evils of gambling. She's a strict woman, Augusta, real strict. Good as gold, of course. But might set against the lighter things of life.

Well, so you could have knocked us all over with a feather when Augusta started her gambling campaign for War Bonds and Stamps, right out in the window of her shop. First she got hold of the photographs of every boy here in town who's joined up, and pasted them on a big board in the window. Half the town was down there watching her do it. She left the middle empty. Then she brought out a placard she'd had printed up and put it in the middle, and this is what it said: "These are the Local Boys who have enlisted in America's War—They are betting that you are buying War Bonds and Stamps—Hitler and the Japs are betting you aren't—Place your bets inside."

My wife couldn't wait to get herself down there and inside Augusta's shop to see what in the wide world had happened to her, turning right around about gambling like that. You know my wife. She kind of likes to talk. She went right up to Augusta and said, "Augusta Travers, seems like something's come over you. Why, I never thought I'd see you running a gambling campaign in your own shop."

Mean to tell me it's a gamble whether this country buys enough bonds to win this war? Augusta asked.

I forgot to say. Wasn't just a hat my wife brought home. Was a hat and a $25 bond.

How to stretch your 48 ration points and still serve nutritious meals

You may rub your eyes a bit this first week or two of food rationing, but it's true—there are two "prices" on that can of peaches there on the grocer's shelf these days, one price in cold, hard cash and another in ration points.

So now in addition to the old familiar problem of making your cash money go as far as possible you'll need to find ways of stretching your ration-point "money," too.

And it's an art! If you invest a coupon in a can of peaches, for example, instead of using it all at one time in just one dessert—you'll be ration-wise to make it do for several.

Since variety is so important, you might first try a peach shortcake—then a couple of days later use the rest of the peaches in tapioca, brown betty or an upside down cake. That's stretching—combining a rationed food with other foods that are non-rationed.

Just as you "stretch a point," you can stretch your vitamins, and minerals, too, by not wasting them. If you are going to use only a portion of a can of peas, heat just the part you need, quickly setting the rest of them in their original container, covered, in the refrigerator.

How you heat the peas is important, too, in this fine art of stretching food values. Like all canned foods, they are already cooked and really cooking them again results in heavy loss of nutritive value.

Schools Open Drive To Buy 10,000 Jeeps

THE little jeep which is serving so nobly from Guadalcanal to Africa has become the symbol of the gigantic efforts of millions of American school children in their War Savings program.

Thousands of public, private and parochial schools soon will be displaying a certificate of honor from Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., signifying that they have paid for at least one jeep by buying $900 in War Stamps and Bonds.

Countless others will be flying the Schools At War banner awarded to schools with 90 percent pupil participation in War Savings.

Ten thousand jeeps and a hundred bombers! This is the new goal of America's schools as 30,000,000 children continue their Schools At War program under the auspices of the Treasury Department and the U. S. Office of Education.

Results so far in the program reported by Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Associate Field Director in charge of the education section of the War Savings Staff, are:

Battle Flags of the Schools

More than 7,000,000 elementary and high school students from 30,000 schools have prepared special Schools At War scrapbooks for state and local exhibits.

War Stamp and War Bond purchases may reach a grand total of $300,000,000 for the school year.
